Presenting a list of timeless traditions for your team to indulge in, during Diwali celebration:

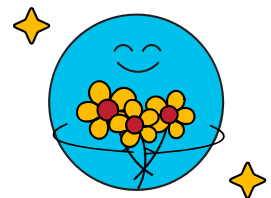

22. Cubicle Decoration:

Modern workplaces employ LED lights, lamps, electrical diyas, paper lanterns, wall designs, and paintings, etc, to deck up everything from alleyways to work cubicles. Floating and tea light candles, balloons, lights on plants, flower garlands, streamers, bells and wind chimes are other items that can be used to enhance the decorations. Do remember to include each and every employee in the activity, to bring about a sense of belonging and make them engage with each other.

For a virtual work environment, you can spice up things even further by running a “Light Up Your Workplace Challenge.” Ask everyone in the team to light up their work spaces at home and share pictures. This can be done as a live challenge or a photo challenge.

Business Impact:

- Boosts morale and workplace culture
- Enhances creativity and collaboration

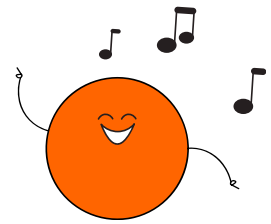

23. Theme Parties:

Theme parties are a great way to get the excitement about celebrations going, even before the party actually begins. This Diwali, introduce the “Ramayana” theme. Aptly named, this one requires every member of your team to dress up as a character from the epic saga.

- Promotes interaction and collaboration
- Promotes a positive company culture

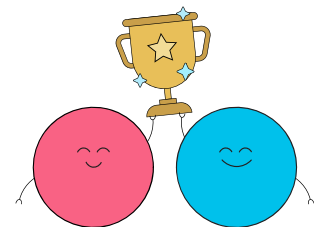

24. Awards and Trophies:

Recognising people for the work and their contribution is one of the best ways to touch the hearts of your employees.

While doing this, don't forget to sneak in a few fun awards too. Silly, engaging awards are bound to get everyone in the mood for celebration and get the festivities started! Oh, and don't forget to record the virtual session – for the archives (and memories, of course)

Business Impact:
